CAHPER Meets Here For Annual Conclave

Science in athletics and administrative problems are the topics which will attract most of the attention, reports CAHPER President Maude Knapp of Stanford.

More than 1000 members of the California Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation are expected to be here tomorrow for their annual four day conclave April 10-13.

The four-day agenda includes two general addresses, panel discussions and clinics concerning all phases of health, physical education and recreation.

A student program has been scheduled also for the meet. One hundred SJS students and 120 from other colleges will participate in the four-day conference.

Alicia Ench and Russell Whitman, student conference co-chairmen, along with the other 75 student CAHPER members, will receive the visitors Saturday at the registration table.

Dr. Clifford Brownell, president of CAHPER, will be one of the keynote speakers at the major general sessions along with Dr. James Quillen, Dean of Education of Stanford University.

Basketball, football and track are to be subjects of reports on scientific studies.

A review of the control exercised by such a conference also will be discussed.

A football section panel will be headed by Chuck Taylor, Stanford's football coach, who will speak on "Honesty in Intercollegiate Athletics." There also will be an aquatic section and track clinic.

Cornelius Warmerdam, holder of the world's pole vault record of 15 ft. 7 3/4 in., will head the track clinic along with Fred Barnes, NCAA pole vault champion and Dick Templeton, former Stanford track coach.

Marty Mathiesen of Sunnyvale will be one of the leaders on administrative problems.

Perry Postpones Homecoming Talks

The Homecoming committee meeting scheduled for yesterday afternoon was postponed by Chairman ern Perry until next Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Perry said that the meeting was cancelled because members of four downtown service clubs who were asked to attend the meeting did not show up.

The day and place of the Homecoming festivities will be set at the Thursday meeting.

SJS Boxers Tied for First in NCAA

San Jose State College boxers last night won three matches and lost one to enter the semi-final round of the NCAA tournament at Penn State tied with University of Wisconsin, Michigan State University, Maryland University and Penn State University for first place.

Each team has four representatives in today's semi-final round.

Winners for the Spartans were John Hernandez, 125 pounder, who defeated Eddie Olson, Pacific Coast Intercollegiate titlist from Washington State; Vic Harris, 139 lb. PCI champ, who defeated Larry Fornitola of Penn State, 3-0; and Joe Rodriguez, 132-pounder, who gained the nod from Bob McMath of Penn State, 2-1.

Only loser for the Spartans was 178-lb. Tom Stern who was defeated 3-0 by Adair Kols of Penn State.

Captain Dick Bender of the Spartans drew a bye.

IT'S JUST FIVE MINUTES till Easter for these SJS coeds. And with the nearness of this traditional spring holiday, the breezes are balmy and the sky is clear, inducing Pegi Harp, Juanie Green, Pat Brennan and many girls on campus to wear their bright new spring cottons. Spring fashion notes are featured this issue on Page two.

The fourth annual Easter program will be conducted by Dr. Lyle W. Downey, head of the Music department. The soloists for the production have been trained by Miss Maurine Thompson, associate professor of music, and Lease. The Choral Ensemble also has been trained by Lease.

This Easter production is based on passages taken from "The Vision of St. John." With the exception of two hymns, a verse

State Board Gives Favorable Report

The reports of the Western College Assn. and the Accreditation Committee of the State Board of Education are very favorable, according to Executive Dean James C. DeVoss.

Dean DeVoss stated that the favorable comments covered nearly every department. He noted that the favorable comments outnumber the unfavorable comments by about two to one.

100 Certificates Will Be Awarded Recognition Day

Approximately 100 award certificates presented for meritorious service will be given to the outstanding members of the student body of San Jose State, it was disclosed by the newly formulated Recognition committee yesterday.

Bob Lindsey, committee chairman, announced that a June issue of the "Spartan Daily" will feature all students and faculty members deserving recognition.

Two outstanding students, a male and a female, and two outstanding faculty members will be chosen. Jules Bozzi is donating two watches for the outstanding students.

Recognition Day will be some time the week before finals.

Members of the committee are Carole Barlin, Dave Doerr, Hal Morrow, Darlene Stadler, Bob Weiss, Marilyn Mueller, Ed Pope and Phil Trowbridge.

Today Is Deadline To File for Clerk

Today is the last day to file applications for the appointive office of court clerk, it was announced yesterday by Stan Croonquist, chief justice of the Student Court.

Application blanks are available in the ASB office.

The Chief Justice also announced that the next court session will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

The Western College Assn. and the Accreditation Committee of the State Board of Education both reaccredited San Jose State College last fall, but their reports were just released.

Dean DeVoss stated that the unfavorable comments are all of a constructive nature and suggest the direction of improvement. The entire report will be most valuable for promoting self study here. The problem of not enough space for students was mentioned several times in the two reports, Dean DeVoss said.

Dean of Instruction Fred E. Harclerod and Dean DeVoss are preparing complete evaluations of the reports, which will be given to the faculty.

Cash, Books Wait Student Claimants

Students must pick up their books or money at the Alpha Phi Omega book exchange in the Student Union by 4 p.m. today or they will be forfeited, according to Stan Croonquist, fraternity member.

Monday and Tuesday, Alpha Phi Omega will hold a rummage sale of books that are not in present use in the Student Union, according to Croonquist.

The signing of the budget will give the college $3,513,958 for the 1954-55 school year. Funds from other sources will raise the total budget to $4,033,736.

Included in the state allocation is $2,011,425 for improvements and construction of new buildings. The total includes construction of a new classroom building, equipment for the building, completion of the library, and installation of a new boiler.

Spring Fashions Break Forth in Riot of Color

By BETTY BENNETT

Fashions have gone wild this spring—wild over colors and bright prints. Color is up to the individual, but pinks are seen more this year than last, especially in the accessory line. Cotton is the by-word, in everything from bathing suits to dress-up dresses.

Mrs. Knowles of Blum's sports-wear tells us that pedal pushers are selling faster than any other one item in the department. And those pedal pushers—prints, plaids, stripes, polka-dots—anything and everything! They're in sail cloth, twill and denim. White Stag is featuring a whole line in pedal pushers, shorts, halter tops, canisoles, shirts, jackets, and even hats and caps. White Stag's favorite is the "Fish-Tale" print. Most 'pedal pushers are tightened at the knee, paired with the boxy shirt or jacket.

One-piece bathing suits are the vogue. Bright cotton prints are seen here, too, especially the Hawaiian prints. Highest style is the bloomer suit, with a partially elasticized top. Lastex suits are predominantly brown and blue. A newcomer in the field is the "Ever-Fit," a bathing suit with a built-in life preserver discreetly tucked into pockets over the hips.

Accessories are very important this season. New on the scene is red with yellow. The most popular handbag is the "Tote-Bag." It's a huge carry-all combination shopping bag and purse, and it comes in every color and material. Straws and baskets are good, too. Blum's Dorothy Drake showed a cute basket made by the Pennsylvania Dutch. It has its own hand-painted earrings and necklace. In the dressier line is the new "bucket-bag." This fashion note comes in plastic, patent leather, and died calf. New white nylon pouches from Switzerland are featured, too.

Campus shoes are softie-flats in any color your heart desires. Sandals are mostly white, calf, and some straw. Thongs are very popular. Dress shoes feature the "illusion heel" that looks like a very high heel, but is comfortably low. Halter shoes are new this year, along with a new shade—gun metal patent. Another heel is the very thin "pencil heel." Mesh is on its way back.

Gloves are either long or very, very short; so short they barely reach the wrists. That's to show off lots of bright and shiny bracelets. The gloves are in cotton and nylon, crocheted, imported from France, or have a cuffed effect. In any case, the outstanding color is white. Kislav brings us pink embroidered kid for special occasions. (A trend of beaded and gold-trimmed gloves is going toward heavily decorated gloves for fall.)

Flowers and fruit are on the jewelry scene. Flowers are made by flower-makers instead of jewelers and appear even in wax for a very natural look. Earrings are immense. They sometimes wander in an unusual direction and cover the entire ear. They're for casual wear and dress. Colors galore!!!

Belts are a center of attraction. They're every color, made of velvets, strings, leather, and wooden beads. The fashionable princess line is bringing back

Music Fraternities To Greet Violinist

Phi Mu Alpha and Mu Phi Epsilon music societies will give a reception for Julian Oleviski, violinist, tonight, Thomas Eagan, adviser, said yesterday.

Oleviski is one of the musicians appearing in the community concert series at Divic Auditorium. The reception is scheduled for after the concert.

Phi Mu Alpha is a men's national honor group, advised by Eagan. Miss Frances Robinson advises Mu Phi Epsilon, national professional music society.

the cinch belt—even in stripes.

You'll need a whole new wardrobe in collars, laces, straws, leather, prints, ribboned ones, and embroidered ones. There are even delicate nylon collars for dressy dresses.

Cosmetics are lighter and brighter. Blum's is featuring such Revlon lipstick and nail polish shades as "snow pink."

Separates are especially right for the SJS campus this year. In all casual dresses, cotton is most used. Appearing polished, embossed, checked, polka-dots, and as bright, bright Hawaiian prints. Making its first appearance this season is a pima cotton-orlon blend that launders wonderfully. Cotton is blended effectively with linen and light wools, too. Princess waists and full, full skirts are the news.

The over-all fashion picture shows bright colors accenting light-hearted, comfortable attire.

Personal View Denotes Theme Of Bridal Shop

By GLORIA LORENZO

Francesca's Bridal Shop, 49 W. San Fernando St., has recently opened with a fine array of personally styled wedding gowns.

Mrs. Frances LoPinto, owner, offers to advise and give personal attention to prospective brides, and the shop has the latest in styles and fabrics.

A spacious reception room and large fitting rooms add to the simple dignity of the atmosphere. Huge mirrors reflect dozens and dozens of suits, formals and lacy bridal wear.

Mrs. LoPinto has brought her talent and ability to San Jose from New York, where she was one of the widely known experts on bridal finery. Her advice is valuable, and the items in her shop are stylish and reasonable.

She recently added Mrs. Darrol R. Anderson in selecting her bridal gown. Mrs. Anderson, formerly Beverly Scholle, is a freshman G.E. major.

For you who have any problems in selecting your wedding finery, Mrs. LoPinto will gladly help you with your plans.

Dress Styles Show Many New Features

By CAROL LAGE

Dress styles this year range from the straight sheath to the full bouffant, and the old Princess style has made a surprising comeback in numerous colors and various prints.

Sun-backed casuals with contrasting stoles are big news this year as last. However, cotton lace has replaced the matching material ones. Separates come in vivid prints, checks and stripes, and can be worn interchangeably.

An added feature this season is a one-sleeve dress, which leaves the other shoulder bare. These and many other top fashions are available at Audrey's Dress Shop, 76 W. San Antonio St.

Necklines seem to range from the strapless decollete to the Mandarin collar. Sleeves run from thin straps to full or push-up ones.

Cotton is the fabric most used for both casual and dressy wear. Light weight denim has been especially popular for night fashions. Polished and embossed cottons trimmed with stones and beads are particularly stunning for day time wear. Quilted cotton in dresses and skirts has been in great demand for day and night.

Washable linens and rayons in straight and flared designs will be of special interest to college women as they need not be ironed. Silks and shantung are specially designed to be wrinkle resistant. Materials definitely are being made with the eye to ease and comfort.

The fuller skirt has been made to stand out by a new type of crinoline. It is a paper called "pelon" that can be sewn inside the fabric. The paper is washable and does not lose its stiffness. Other petticoats of net, nylon, cotton, and crinoline with yards and yards of eyelet do particular wonders to full skirts. These full skirts emphasize the small waistline, which is a must this season.

Colors run the gamut from dark navy to vivid pink. Hawaiian and mosaic prints are found in almost all styles and sizes. New combinations of black and brown are very startling for dress or casual. Bright oranges and reds, too, are making style headlines.

A striking cross between blue and turquoise called Peacock blue has been receiving quite a bit of attention around San Jose circles.

Fashion Emphasis Shifts From Girl's Head to Feet

By EDWINA KILLORAN

Kick up your heels and let your shoes go to your head this spring, gals! Well, maybe not quite, but what with the shorter skirts placing greater emphasis on your shoe wardrobe, you'll find that current styles in footwear do allow a blythe spirit in movement.

Flowing from this new freedom of light-weight construction come colors, fabrics and designs which set definite trends in shoes as witness a preview of Bloom's spring collection this week.

Pink and white are the pacesetters this season with other favorites ranging from palest beige through golden tan.

"This will be the biggest white year" predicted Max Bloom, owner-manager of the shoe store as he showed samples of the collection. "Since skirts are shorter, more attention will be directed to the foot, thus a shoe must be more ornate... more a part of the costume," he continued.

New ideas in fabrics and accessory items are in evidence, also. Accentuating traditional kidskin, calf and suede fabrics are bows, simulated jewels, faillie braide trim and metallic strands.

In design, perhaps we find the most obvious change. This is the season of the "barest of the bare" in shoes. We saw low-cut V shells held onto the foot by the merest wisp of an elastic band. Capezio, always a favorite with college girls, has a great many in this vein, besides their usual campus casual numbers. The small heel remains in vogue on many of the shoes displayed.

Although no matter what the combinations are, they are sure to be gay, lively and bright.

The traditional pump has given way to a new bareness in design, tapering from an open halter type sling down to a diagonal toe opening, it appears as the perfect complement to summer costumes.

Bags, in the new polar white and carnal tan, as well as other shades match many of the shoes.

Long-term Loans Inadvisable!

Wednesday afternoon the Student Council approved a loan to the Junior Class totaling $250 to cover losses incurred by that class in sponsoring the Junior Prom. We do not question the advisability of the council's helping out the class, but we do question the advisability of allowing them until the end of Spring quarter 1955 to pay it back.

In making a plea for the loan, Representative-at-large Art Lund said, "What difference will $250 make out of a total of approximately $17,000 which the Senior Class (Junior Class this year) will have to work with? It's only a drop in the bucket."

Well, it seems to boil down to the old saying, "It's not the money, it's the principle of the thing." To allow a class to pay off debts incurred a year or more ago with senior week funds is setting a dangerous precedent.

We are forced to go on record with Bill Eckert, student body vice-president, as opposing a move which allows a class more than a year to meet its responsibilities quite probably incurred through poor scheduling.

Campus Group Plans Sessions

The annual spring conference of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will be held this weekend, April 9-11, at Mission Springs in the Santa Cruz Mountains, according to Marjean Morris, campus publicity chairman for the organization.

The theme of the conference, "History's Greatest Week," will feature lectures and discussions based upon the question, "What Is the Relevance of the Life and Death of Jesus Christ to Modern Living?"

Speakers and discussion leaders include: Mr. Paul H. Holsinger, Oakland realtor; Mr. G. Raymond White, University Christian Fellowship officer in Berkeley; Miss A. Wetherell Johnson, San Bernardino instructor, and staff member of the NFC.

Those wishing to attend the conference are requested to contact Freeda Fichtner at CY 3-0246 by Friday afternoon.

Ski Club Ends Season At Soda Springs Races

"Die-hards who would almost ski on rocks," stated Lee Yip, Ski club program chairman, will end the snow season this weekend when they compete in the SJS annual skiing championship races at Soda Springs.

Yip extends a special invitation to anyone who wants to enter the contests. Only requirement, he states, is that the person join the club before competing.

There will be trophies and belt buckles for the winners in the various divisions. A perpetual trophy will be awarded to the winner in the open class race and trophies to other first place gainers. Second and third places will receive belt buckles.

Doug Fox, the incoming president, won the open class last year. A contestant must win this class three years in succession in order to gain actual possession of the trophy, Yip said.

Divisions open for competition include intermediate and beginners for men and intermediate and advance for women.

Anyone is eligible to enter the open classification.

Of the 180 members of the Ski club, Yip thinks that only 30 or 40 will actually participate in the races Saturday and Sunday.

The trophies and buckles will be displayed near the Coop entrance, Library Arch and Outer Quad today for student inspection.

Being probably the last outing this snow year, Yip said "we want to make it a successful one."

The SJS Ski club came in second in the Bay Area Ski Federation Winter Carnival team championship races earlier this year competing against about ten other teams. Highly touted Cal came in third with only the Alpiners of San Francisco topping San Jose State.

University Grad Attends Freshman Classes Here

Although she is a graduate of Meiji University, 28-year-old Hisayo Kawahara doesn't mind being a freshman here.

"I prefer being a freshman because I have a chance to learn conversational English by meeting and speaking with other students," she explained. Her school records were lost during the war so Miss Kawahara cannot verify former schooling.

Miss Kawahara is a Journalism major, speaks good English, and has been in the United States one month.

"There is a great opportunity for women journalists in Japan," she declared. Originally planning to major in psychology, Miss Kawahara expressed her opinion that journalism offers a somewhat broader scope, the better to help her people.

The daughter of a postmaster, she was an interpreter at the U.S. Navy Hospital at the Yokosuka Navy Base. Her education is being financed by the gifts of naval personnel who were attached to the hospital. Lt. Cmdr. James H. Keating, now in San Francisco, originated the idea of starting the fund to further her American education.

The fund campaign was started by Capt. Claude R. Ball, commanding officer of the Yokosuka hospital.

Miss Kawahara has attended several colleges in Japan, Kasei Girls' college in Tokyo, Tsuda English college, Seisen Girls' University and Meiji University.

Yaks Run Rampant In Economics Class

Humor was rampant in Economics 1C this week as Owen Broyles, associate professor of economics, gave and took a couple yaks. "Usually I don't believe I need a trim, but when my wife and others begin ruffling the hair on the back of my neck . . ."

An elderly wife was feeling kitenish as she and her husband sat on the sofa reminiscing about the days of their engagement.

"Why don't you bite my ear like you used to?" teased the woman. The man got up and started walking away.

"Where are you going?" demanded the wife.

"To the bathroom, dear, to get my teeth."

Science Education Class Plans Three Trips

Trips to Asilomar, the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco, and an aquarium manufacturing company, are some of the features of a night class in science education being taught by Dr. Ralph A. Smith, professor of zoology.

The class, Science Education 116, is a study of animals and plants of the aquarium and terrarium, specializing in teaching techniques of value in specimen exhibiting, to teachers of kindergarten through senior high school levels.

First offered in spring of 1953, the course is so popular with instructors from the surrounding areas, that it now has 41 persons enrolled.

First field trip for the class will be Monday night at 7 o'clock at the Pacific Aquarium Manufacturing Company, 500 San Antonio Road, Los Altos, where the group will be able to assemble its own aquariums or terrariums.

Any students interested in taking the field trips with the class may contact Dr. Smith.

Teachers enrolled in the course will be able to borrow animals from the Natural Science department for class projects in the San Jose area, said Dr. Smith.

The uniqueness of the study was noted in a past issue of the "New Yorker" magazine, and Dr. Smith has received a request from an aquarium publication requesting information on the course. It is believed to be one of the only two classes of its kind in the country.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(UP)—Only 100 of 3,000 city employees took advantage of an offer to protect their health, even though the service was free. The offer—flu shots.

Student Edits Science Fiction Mag--'Inside'

Any spaceships or Martians seen around campus most likely will be straight out of the pages of "Inside," a new science fiction magazine being published by Philosophy Freshman Ron Smith.

When asked why he decided to put out a science fiction magazine, Smith declared that he is doing it for practice. He intends to be a writer.

This 32-page quarterly will not be limited exclusively to S.F. (abbreviation of science fiction recognized by leading S.F. slicks), according to the young publisher.

He also is interested monetarily in obtaining good stories. Writer's Digest has listed him as a possible market for stories.

The latest issue of "Inside" is being distributed at the newsstand at the corner of Second and Santa Clara streets.

Incidentally, the title "Inside" has a double meaning, it is meant to be thought-provoking as well as indicating future potentialities.

Any budding Isaac Azimovs, Frederic Browns or Robert Heinleins may turn their talents into legal tender by submitting short, medium or long masterpieces to Smith.

Spartans Meet St. Mary's Nine

San Jose State's varsity baseball team, led by newly-elected Captains Ron Kauffman and John Oldham, will entertain the St. Mary's Gaels in Municipal Stadium tomorrow starting at 2:30 p.m.

Doug Boehner, who suffered a tough 3-1 defeat at the hands of the University of San Francisco in his last outing, will start on the mound for the Spartans. Mal Leal will handle the catching chores.

Boehner has a 5.57 earned run average for the four games in which he has appeared so far this season.

The lineup for the Spartans will remain essentially the same with Jack Richards leading off and playing shortstop; Don Visconti in center field, batting second; Ron Walters in right field, Dick Brady playing first base and batting cleanup.

Bill Pitcher at third base, batting fifth; Ron Palma at second base; Bill Anderson in left field; Leal behind the plate, and Boehner pitching.

Visconti is pacing the regulars with a .538 batting average in four games. Leal followed with a .322 mark in eight games. Ron Walters is third in the Spartan batting parade with .314.

Statistics released by Danny Hill, SJS athletic publicity director, reveal that the Golden Raiders are hitting a .222 clip in eight games, while their opponents have hit Spartan pitching for a .256 average.

The Golden Raiders travel Tuesday to Alameda but return for a doubleheader with College of Pacific next Saturday at Municipal.

Williams Says Spartans Rank With Competitors

By MIKE KONON

"The ball team plays baseball fully as well as any college team we have met this season in spite of the fact that we have lost more games than we have won," Walt Williams, Spartan baseball coach, said yesterday, appraising his team.

Running through the infield and catchers on his squad, Williams noted that their strongest asset was team play. "It's team play that counts," he said.

State Tennis Team Drops Willamette; Ready for Gaels

By GARY ENGELL

Steady improvement is telling on the win-loss column for SJS's varsity tennis team as it stomped Willamette University yesterday 7-0 and prepares to clash with the St. Mary's Gaels today at Backesto park at 1:30 p.m.

Yesterday's victory gave Hugh Mumby's boys three straight wins since the Spring quarter started. Previously to this they had dropped matches to Stanford and Sacramento State and gained only a few points in the Northern California Intercollegiate tennis matches. Their record now is three wins and two losses.

Don Straub, State's two-letter man, dropped Bud Mull of Willamette easily yesterday 6-2, 6-4. Other singles winners include Jack Capon, 6-4, 6-2; Kent Clunie, 6-2, 6-2; Coney Reece, 6-4, 6-0; Bob Bell 4-6, 7-5, 6-1. Doubles winners were Staub and Capon 8-6, 6-4, and Clunie and Reece 7-5, 6-2.

This is the second match in which the Golden Raiders have "skunked" their opponents.

Coach Mumby believes that his boys will hold their own with all coming opponents, except California and Stanford. He stated, "We could go through the season without further loss, except for the two giants, California and Stanford."

He reports that his team's main feature is that everyone is fairly uniform in ability and that this gives the team a better winning chance than if there were only two good men and the others just fair.

Clunie, a transfer from Yuba College, gives the team a lot of extra punch.

The two losses suffered were at the hands of Stanford and Sacramento State. An encouraging feature of the season outlook is that in the second engagement with Sacramento, the Spartans reversed their 7-2 defeat with a 5-4 victory.

TREE TOP

NEWINGTON, Conn. — (UP) — John Murphy offered a $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the culprit who sawed the eight-foot top off a blue spruce on his lawn. Murphy explained that the 25-year-old tree was an ornament to his home.

As a team, the Spartans, who will play St. Mary's tomorrow afternoon in Municipal Stadium, are hitting at a .222 clip. The Golden Raider pitchers are holding the opposition to a 3.25 runs per game average.

One of the individuals who make up the Spartans is hustling Catcher Mal Leal. Leal, hitting a .321 clip for the eight games in which he has appeared, is a veteran of one year's service with the Spartans. Leal calls Oakland his home.

Giving Leal competition for the top catching spot is Shruder Willet, a junior college transfer who just became eligible for play this quarter. Willet is from Modesto.

Dick Brady, who took over first base duties late last year, is improving steadily in the fielding department. Brady is expected to come along with his hitting in the near future. The junior from Hanford hit .323 in 25 games last year, and is hitting .265 in eight games this season.

Ron Palma, veteran second baseman, hit .245 last year in 35 games. Palma is currently sporting a .222 batting average.

Jack Richards, another Spartan junior, has the distinction of having played every infield position but one on Spartan teams. As a freshman he was a second baseman who had the scouts drooling. As a sophomore last year, he filled in at third base for the Golden Raider varsity and sparkled there too. Now as a junior he is impressing the fans and sports writers alike with his classy fielding at the shortstop position. Richards, from Roseville, is hitting only .083 for eight games this season, far behind his pace of .259 last year.

Bill Pitcher played third base on the 1952 Spartan squad. He returned this year after a year's absence to play the hot corner for the Golden Raiders. Pitcher hails from Piedmont and is currently hitting .158.

Two junior college transfers back up the starting infield. Lou Gambello, shortstop from Fresno Junior College, and Bob Wolfe, third baseman from Chaffey Junior College, will probably see considerable action in the infield this year.

General utility man is Ron Kauffman, who can and has played any position on the team.

Kauffman, Leal, Pitcher and Palma are the seniors on this infield. Barring difficulties with the draft and professional scouts, Williams can expect a veteran nucleus of Richards and Brady for next year's infield, plus Gambello and Wolfe with experience.

Leading Judo Teams To Vie For State Title

By JERRY GANDY

California's top judo teams will clash tomorrow evening when the state title will be at stake in the Spartan gym as defending co-champion San Jose State stages its Sixth Annual Invitational Judo Tournament.

Under the direction of Yosh Uchida, Spartan judo coach, and a student committee, the tourney is scheduled to get under way at 6 p.m. and last about four hours.

The Spartans and the Los Angeles judo club will put their co-championship on the block with the L. A. contingent having a good chance for a repeat victory, according to reports on the club's record this season.

Fifteen senior teams have entered the annual classic. The Angelenos and the San Francisco judo club appear to have the edge over the other entrants, pre-tourney reports indicate.

The Spartans, three-time state titlists, have a comparatively inexperienced squad, while most of the other teams are composed entirely of black belt judoists. Captain Ken Fare, Bob McCorkle, and Don Edwards of the Spartans have first degree brown belts, while Stan Freshnell has a second degree brown belt. The only holder of a black belt on Uchida's squad is Win Dahl, the team's only veteran.

As a sophomore in last year's tournament, Dahl came through with a draw in his match against Kano of the Los Angeles team. Kano was selected as the outstanding judoist of the tourney.

In addition to the Spartans, other colleges slated to compete are the University of California, West Contra Costa Junior College, and College of Marin. Along with the Los Angeles team there will be judo clubs from San Francisco, San Diego, Southwest Los Angeles, Stockton, Hollywood, Palo Alto, and the San Jose Buddhist Church. Service team entrants will be from Fort Ord, Travis Air Force Base, and Presidio of San Francisco, while judo school entries will be from the Corollo School of Judo and the Takemoto School of Judo from Oakland.

After the matches the coaches will select the outstanding judoist, who will receive a trophy, while team trophies will be presented to the state champion and the winner of a seven-team junior tournament for judoists under 17 years old.

Jaguar Nine Gives Spartababes Loss

Collecting only four hits, the San Jose Frosh baseball team suffered its first loss of the season Wednesday at the hands of the San Jose Junior College Jaguars in a 9-1 contest on the jaycee diamond.

The Spartababes' lone run dented the plate in the ninth inning when Catcher Jerry Clifford tripped and scored on Denny Rodriguez' wild pitch. Other Frosh hitters were Dick Kernick, Ed King, and Jim Johnson.

Frosh Nine Loses To San Mateo, 5-4

Coach Don Lopes' Freshman team will be out to break back into the win column Saturday afternoon when it takes on San Mateo High School on the Spartan diamond.

The Spartababes were turned back in their last two outings after running up a six-game win streak. Yesterday afternoon the San Mateo Junior College team edged them 5-4 in a road game.

Bill Kline was handed the defeat when he gave up the deciding run in the eighth inning. Two singles with a hit batter sandwiched in between accounted for the final tally.

The Frosh out-hit the San Mateo team, 11-9, but failed to produce a winning margin. The Spartababes got three runs for their big inning in the fourth when Centerfielder Al Cerruti doubled to account for two runs. Other big San Jose hitters were Thirdsacker Dick Roza with three hits and First Baseman Ed King and Catcher Jerry Clifford with two each.

Lang Stanley won the NCAA 880-yard title in 1953 by running the distance in 1:52.4.

Cindermen To Face Navy

By JOE BRYAN

Tomorrow's track doubleheader promises to be a dandy, according to Coach Bud Winter. The Varsity will be competing in its first dual meet of the season against San Diego Naval Training Station. The Bob McMullen-coached Frosh will entertain Monterey Peninsula College and San Jose Junior College.

Coach Winter said that there will be stunts and a lot of audiovisual aids presented by the techniques of teaching track class. Two of the special events on tap include the egg race for sororities and the sack race for fraternities.

Some spectacular times may result in the meet if predictions by Coach Winter prove true. He expects the 100 yard dash to go considerably below .10 flat, the best time achieved so far this season by ace sprinter Don Cruickshank. The winner may be Dave Lucas. If he repeats his 9.6 century of last Saturday, a new meet record may be set.

Other meet records which may be threatened include: 120 high hurdles, currently held by George Kerr (NTC) 14.9; 880, currently held by Joe Passaso (NTC) 1:57; two mile, currently held by Paul Bowers (SJS) 9:47.5; high jump, currently held by Herman Wyatt (SJS) 6 ft. 5½ in.; and the pole vault, currently held by George Mattos (SJS) 13 ft. 6 in.

The NTS squad will be bringing home some former Spartans, Coach Williams disclosed.

Returning to the old stomping grounds will be George Passey whose hurdle record Ed Kreyenhagen broke last week. Coach Winter predicts a torrid duel between these two aces, Ed Bill, former Spartan footballer, will be throwing the shot for the Navy. Jim Green will be hurling the javelin, and Jim Van Sant will be running.

Not all of the attention will be focused on the Varsity performers, Coach Winter said. Billy Jo Wright, the freshman shotput sensation who came within 11 inches of the school record last week, will be competing for Coach McMullen's charges. Wright also won the high jump with a 6 foot leap last week.

Track Meeting

Members of the Varsity track squad must report tonight at 7:30 o'clock sharp in Room S110. Coach Bud Winter announced yesterday.

ED KREYENHAGEN, above, ace varsity hurdler, will be competing tomorrow with George Passey, ex-Spartan timbertopper, in what could be one of the hottest events of the SJS-US-NTC. Kreyenhagen shattered Passey's former school record last week.

Frosh Down Hartnell, 4-3

Coach Jim Austin's frosh tennis squad picked up a 4-3 win yesterday afternoon in its initial encounter with Hartnell Junior College.

Collecting victories for the Spartan freshmen were Roger Smith, Tom Smallshire and Keith Murray in singles matches. Smith teamed with Smallshire to pick up the fourth point in doubles play.

Hartnell took three matches as men from Salinas defeated Spartans Bob Engel and Dale Kirk in singles and Read Warriner and Nick Ell in doubles.
